2026

Hello!

Supply Chain Effect is a media platform and ecosystem for supply chain management and logistics. We started in 2010 and over the years we have established ourselves as a well-known and appreciated player on the Nordic logistics scene. In fact, we are the only business magazine in the Nordics with a clear strategic and tactical perspective on supply chain and logistics.

The business magazine Supply Chain Effect reaches more than 14,000 decision makers in supply chain and is distributed to significantly more as a PDF and web magazine. The digital weekly newsletter, SCE Weekly Update, reaches nearly 9,000 recipients and our news site – sceffect.se – has hundreds of visitors every day.

In addition to the magazine, newsletter and news site, we also produce the video podcast SCE TALKs, webinars, seminars, roundtable discussions, films and white papers. To ensure a good mix of both practical and academic content, we have built strong collaborations with both senior executives in business and talented researchers in academia.

Founder and Editor-in-Chief

P.S. Since the start in 2010, we have been members of the trade organization Sveriges Tidskrifter and follow the organization's high requirements.

Supply Chain Effect has content collaborations with leading researchers in supply chain management and logistics including at Linköping University, Chalmers University of Technology, Stockholm University/Stockholm Business School and Lund University.

Engaging and business critical.

Supply Chain Effect's mission is to monitor, highlight and delve deeper into today's most central issues and challenges in supply chain management and logistics. Engaging and business-critical areas such as artificial intelligence, robotization, automation, digitalization, global trade, planning and optimization, risk, resilience, sustainability, collaboration, leadership, competence development – and how all of this creates both opportunities and challenges throughout the supply chain.

Readers, viewers and listeners who influence and make decisions.

Our readers, viewers and listeners are people in leadership positions, qualified specialists and project managers who influence and make crucial decisions about investments in the supply chain. In Supply Chain Effect's channels you therefore reach the right target group, with high precision, and in several complementary channels.

The magazine

The business magazine Supply Chain Effect has more than 14,000 readers and it is distributed freely as PDF to many more relevant decision-makers and specialists in the supply chain. In the magazine, you can advertise in various formats and collaborate on relevant and very engaging content.

Digital channels

On our well-visited and widely read news site, sceffect.se, news and articles of high reading-value and interest for our target group are published daily.

Every Friday, the SCE Weekly Update newsletter publishes the most important events of the week. The newsletter is sent to more than 8,700 recipients in the Nordic region. The newsletter has a high share of returning readers and is opened by an average of 38 percent of recipients. You can advertise in various formats and publish news on the news site as well as in the SCE Weekly Update newsletter.

Events, roundtables, film and white papers

Together with us, you can also produce company-specific webinars, podcasts, seminars, roundtables, white papers and films with a focus on logistics and supply chain management. The possibilities are many and together we can create innovative and effective solutions that both generate leads and build your brand.

It is not possible to keep track of all our readers, viewers and listeners because the magazine is freely distributed as a PDF and anyone who wants to can subscribe to the newsletter and take part in our podcasts in cases where there's no need to login

Since we started in 2010, we have produced a number of different podcasts. The latest is the video podcast SCE TALKs, which was launched in 2025. In the podcast, our editor-in-chief Stefan Karlöf interviews people with cutting-edge knowledge, experience and interesting perspectives in various areas of supply chain management and logistics. The conversations are normally between 30-45 minutes long, as the goal is to give the listener knowledge, inspiration and new perspectives in a relatively short time, but still sufficiently detailed. Each episode is produced in collaboration with a business partner and is distributed, among other things, via Youtube, LinkedIn, on SCE's website and in the SCE Weekly Update newsletter.

SCE 2026

For a number of years, an intensive evolution has been taking place within supply chain management and logistics – an evolution that is accelerating as a result of new technological opportunities, increased competition and tougher demands for sustainability, efficiency, speed and resilience. As a partner with Supply Chain Effect, you are involved in describing, explaining and exploring this intense and exciting development.

Each issue of the magazine has an in-depth theme that covers approximately a third of an issue. But regardless of the theme, we always focus on fundamental areas within supply chain management and logistics, such as digitalization, logistics automation, planning/optimization as well as visibility, risk management, distribution, sustainability and collaboration in the supply chain.

Advertise in the magazine

Advertisements for the magazine must contain images and logos in 300 dpi/dots per inch.

Send your ad as a print-ready PDF with crop marks and bleed. ICC profiles and information about the printing house can be found at www.pipelinenordic.se

Send your ad to:
annons@karlof.se

Trimmed size, 220x300mm. Your content on the page should fit within the trimmed size, leaving a 'quiet-area' around the margins of the page.

Quiet-area / Bleed 5mm: Images and/or colored backgrounds etc. needs to overflow the trimmed page-area with 5mm bleed outside of 220x300 mm on all four sides. The Quiet area of 5mm margin/overflow will be cut off when the page is trimmed in the printing process.

Crop and/or bleed marks determines the trimmed size and is for assistance when placing the advert in the layout process.
